COAST COMMENT ON JAPANESE STRIKE WILL MAN BATTERIES IN SEPTEMBER

It.

The report was obtained from Japanese sources this morning that the bums in charge of the squad of strikers now in the city have been told to hold on about a week more when an advance of wages will be granted them. This advance wage falsehood appears to center principally about Honolulu plantation. The men are told that they will not get the full advance they ask, but may be granted $22 a month.

This yarn seems to have originated within the councils of the agitators, as the Agitator organ printed a story last evening that the Honolulu

BATTERIES MANNED BY SEPTEMBER 15

September 15 will probably witness the final turning over of the mortar batteries at Fort Ruger by Major E. Evelyn Winslow, constructing engineer. The tests by the Ordnance Department will probably be made about the middle of August, after which final changes, found necessary, will be made and everything will then be in shape for turning over to the artillery officers.

Of the eight mortars mounted at Fort Ruger, only two have ever been tested. None of the carriages have been submitted to firing tests. On the other hand, the mortars are a part of a large number, all manufactured by the government at one place and at one time. Several of the pieces of ordnance in the lot were sent to the testing ground and fired from 400 to 500 times. As none of them developed flaws, it is believed that the rest of the lot are equally perfect.

From three to five shots will be fired from each mortar. The first shot will be with a light charge, the next with

21 INDICTMENTS ONLY 3 WARRANTS

Uchiyama Four Charges
Nakamura On
Two

Only three bench warrants were returned in the United States District Court before Judge Dole this morning out of the 21 indictments returned by the Grand Jury. All other warrants are expected to be served this afternoon.

Yasukichi Uchiyama was arraigned on four charges in violation of the postal laws, and if convicted upon them he is liable to 20 years at hard labor, five years on each count. He is accused specifically of sending papers through the mail, themselves available matter, but writing on the covers in Japanese scurrilous and threatening attacks on the Shingo Sha and the Japanese Daily Chronicle. "Hawaii Shingo Sha, Traitor," is the only remark mentioned by the indictment as being written. He will plead Monday and admitted to $4,000 bail, $1,000 on each count.

Nakamura was arraigned on an adultery charge under the Edmunds Act and formally charged with a second count on the same as a procurer. His bail was fixed at $1,500 on the two counts, and he will plead Monday.

OAHU PLANTATION STRONG AT 30 1-4

Many Sales of Sugar
Stocks At Good
Figures

Oahu Plantation stock (Waipahu) furnished the activity on the Exchange today. In all 1,000 shares changed hands, there being one block of 300 shares, one of 200 and several of 100 shares or less. The price was uniform, 30 1-4, the best figure that the securities have reached for several days.

There has been a steady upward trend of Oahu stock since last week, and the market seems strong. Despite the recent payment of dividends the price is substantial. One lump of 100 shares of Hawaiian Commercial was sold, the price being 29 3-4. O. R. & L. bonds were in demand at 102, and forty shares of the stock went at 125.

Two thousand dollars worth of Hilo Railroad Company bonds sold at 94. There was but little session trading, most of the sales being between boards.

Japanese Ships In Tomorrow

His Imperial Majesty's training ships Aso and Soya, under Admiral Uchida, are due to arrive from Seattle tomorrow morning. Up to the noon hour today no wireless message was received by Consul General Uyeno.

According to Consul General Uyeno, it is expected that the Admiral and his officers will be entertained separately by the local Japanese during their stay here. The only official function will be the Hawaiian luncheon to be given to the Admiral by Mayor Fern.

HOW OUR STRIKE IS VIEWED ABROAD

Rebellious Sentiment Is Threat Against Government

The San Francisco Call, commenting editorially on the strike of Japanese on local plantations, says: Japanese in Hawaii, feeling the strength of numbers, prove rebellious, turbulent and inclined to defy the law. They break out in riots, and there is talk of organized resistance against enforcement of law. It is true that violence is a common incident of strikes in America and in Europe, but in the present case it causes a more serious menace that not obscurely threatens American rule in the Hawaiian group. If there is occasional violence in an American strike it does not mean that the government is threatened, but that is exactly the meaning of the rebellious spirit among the Japanese in Hawaii. It is the logical result of harboring an alien, unsimiliable, and secretly hostile population.

There are lots of good people in the east who fail to understand the feeling of California on the subject of Japanese immigration. They should cast an eye over conditions in the Hawaiian archipelago. The Japanese laborers constitute an overwhelming majority of the population. They never become Americans. They are always Japanese and loyal to their native allegiance. They are harbored because they are an industrial convenience, but their presence constitutes a danger to American rule in the islands, because they owe no allegiance to our flag. An organized rebellion of these hostile aliens might easily overwhelm the handful of American troops in Hawaii. The situation brings Japan pretty close to this continent, and California does not want it brought any nearer by admitting to our shores a overwhelming horde of these dangerous aliens.

Bail For Baker Fixed

Bail for Raymond J. Baker, awaiting trial for bigamy, was this morning fixed at $2000. Since his arrest, Baker has been cooling his heels in the Territorial bastille, his wealthy father not having come to his assistance. Baker is the man who married Mrs. Eva B. Wallace, after a brief steamer acquaintance, forgetful of the fact that he already had one undivorced wife living.

DIVORCE GRANTED IN BAKER CASE

By a decree of divorce allowed by Judge Robinson this morning in the Circuit Court, Mary Baker secured her freedom from Alani Baker. The suit was originally heard on June 2, but the court took the matter under advisement. The charge was extreme cruelty.

JURORS EXAMINED CONSPIRACY CASE

Nine Jurors Temporarily Passed—Judge
De Bolt Urges Securing of Impartial
Jury—Lightfoot Delays Trial By Exhaustive Examination

JURORS TEMPORARILY ACCEPTED.

A. D. Bolster, George H. Greene, Hiram Holomaku, James H. Cummings, Sam M. Kamakiau, Thomas C. McGuire, S. K. Hoa, Jr., John G. Clement and Sam Pupuhi.

Nine jurors were temporarily passed in the beginning of the conspiracy trial this morning. Robert Mist and H. F. Beardmore were excused on account of their connections with plantations. In order to expedite the selection of a jury as much as possible both sides agreed to the dismissal without the formalities of a challenge, such jurors as were known to them as disqualified to sit in the case. Those passed are subject to peremptory challenge.

When the case of the Territory against Y. Soga, T. Tanaka, K. Kawamura, M. Nigoro and F. K. Makino, charged with conspiracy against Honolulu Plantation Company, Oahu Sugar Company, Ewa Plantation Company, Waiakua Agricultural Company and Kahuku Sugar Company, was called in Judge De Bolt's court, every available chair and bench were occupied by curious spectators, and friends of the strike leaders.

Makino, the strike leader, confident and smiling, took his place next to his lawyer at the counsel table, while the others arranged themselves upon request of the Judge about Mr. Lightfoot. Their attorney was disposed to introduce his clients formally to the court and jury, but Judge De Bolt did not insist on the courtesy. He said that it was necessary to secure an absolutely fair and impartial jury.

The defendants in this conspiracy case are charged specifically with conspiring to prevent the companies above named, from operating their plantations. From the special venire of twenty-six names, twelve men were called into the box, and nine temporarily passed.

Attorney Lightfoot, in his examination, centered his questions to each man on the reading of newspaper accounts of the strikes, especially in the Bulletin. To every man he put the question: "Have you read what has been reiterated in the Bulletin week after week: 'Thugs and Agitators Must Go'?" Most of them had either read or heard about the well-known phrase, but they insisted it would not influence them in giving the Japanese strike leaders a square deal, and a fair trial. Lightfoot tried to make as much capital out of the newspaper accounts as possible, but none of the jurors took him seriously, in fact Attorney Kinney yesterday referred to him as the "Apostle of Ignorance."

From the exhaustive manner in which the jurors are being examined it will take at least three days to secure a permanent jury. Makino is taking active part in the selection of the men who are to hear the evidence against him and his associates, and confers with his lawyer frequently as to questions to be asked. Attorneys Kinney, Prosser and Ballou are appearing on behalf of the Territory, while thus far Lightfoot is the sole counsel for the alleged conspirators.

RIOT CASE SET IN ANOTHER COURT

Attorney For Japanese
Fail To Secure
Aid

At 9 o'clock the case of the Territory against Jotaro Mikawa, Mianchi, K. Kawakami, Takiyama, Muraji Mitsumago, Kumaji Morita, Moriau Okiyama, Dingo Kawamura, H. Tushino, Noyoi Yanoeda, Higashio, Nagata, H. Tomimatsu indicted for riot, was called before Judge Robinson for the purpose of the court taking action on the order made by Judge De Bolt yesterday, transferring the riot cases to his court. The defendants filed into court, and it was evident that Joseph Lightfoot had not seen fit to secure additional counsel to represent the men. Instead, he strenuously objected to the trial going ahead under the order made and before Judge Robinson, on the ground that he had not had forty-eight hours' notification of the notice issued from the Attorney General's office.

Attorney Kinney explained the order of the court, and said it was evident that Mr. Lightfoot had done nothing in the way of securing counsel to aid him.

"The sooner the wheels of justice begin to move," said Mr. Kinney, "the sooner these prisoners will either be vindicated or punished."

"But I have been regularly retained and paid by these gentlemen," retorted Lightfoot, "and am their only counsel. As I have said before the prosecution has no right to railroad these men to jail without a fair chance to exercise their constitutional rights. As I am the counsel in the conspiracy case, which is about to come up before Judge De Bolt, your Honor can see that it is impossible for me to appear in this case at this time."

He then insisted on reading a 30
